

The diagram illustrates the layout of a left page with three distinct lines on the right side. From the outer edge to the center, the lines are: a red line (Bleed line), a blue line (Cut/Crop line), and a green line (Internal margin). Each line is accompanied by a horizontal pointer line and a text label. The text labels are positioned to the left of their respective pointer lines. The text 'Left page' is centered in the lower half of the page.
